Bayer easyFlow

We are glad to introduce to your attention the Bayer easyFlow

Work Safely, protect yourself as well as your crops!

Bayer CropScience has selected a new, completely safe dosage system for you that is already very popular in other countries.

What is easyFlow?

It is the first closed transfer system for crop protection products in canisters.

What benefits does it offer?

- It enhances operator safety by preventing spillages during the preparation process.
- It allows partial use of the crop protection products in containers, thus reducing waste and protecting the environment.
- It allows empty containers to be washed quickly and efficiently, for optimum management and rinsing prior to disposal.
- It is easy to install on the tanks of spraying and premixing equipment.

The easyFlow system is designed to comply with operator safety and environmental protection standards. At the Agritechnica exhibition in Hanover (Germany), easyFlow was awarded a silver medal for its innovative approach to improving production processes, with greater efficiency, environmental friendliness and operator safety.
